

Bronze Age

Your summer makeup mantra: Do less, look better. Sultry days call for a swoosh of bronzer—and very little else.

BY ELLEN MILLER

Meet your newest makeup multitasker. Whether you pick a powder or a liquid, bronzer can stand in for eyeshadow and blush, says Chicago-based makeup artist Jo Levy. Using a light touch, blend along your hairline, across each cheek, down the jawline, and onto each lid. The result? Simply gorgeous, glowing skin. Finish the look with mascara and lip gloss and go!

From top: Rimmel London Sunshimmer Maxi Bronzer, $5.99; drugstores. Laura Geller Bronze-n-Brighten Baked Color Correcting Bronzer, $33; ulta.com. Maybelline New York Face Studio Master Hi-Light, $9.99; drugstores. Rouge Bunny Rouge Bronzing Glow Liquid As If It Were Summer Still, $60; beautyhabit.com. Paula's Choice SunKissed Custom Color Bronzer, $16; paulaschoice.com. Perricone MD No Bronzer Bronzer, $35; sephora.com. ■

